Guardians

The 110 lair guardians: statistics, specials, perks and weaknesses, grade by grade

Kingdoms Call reference sheet. Data file v2026.10.15-1202. Generated 2026-10-19 from the repository (branch at that date). Numbers are what the engine uses today, read straight from its tables; where a figure comes from the rulebook text instead, the section says so.

Every lair is held by one guardian from this bestiary. A guardian has hit points, a Melee and Archery skill, a speed, one or more specials (an action in its plan, resolved like a spell with a cast chance), one perk per step of its grade, and exactly one weakness. Guardians fight with the "None" temper: no perks, never flee.

What to look for when reviewing

- Within a grade, are the guardians of similar difficulty? HP, blow, special weight and perks all vary.
- Every guardian is weak to one thing (a school, archery, a race or a creed) and never resists it (R-079). All undead are weak to White.
- Which schools are warded most often (school wards are the commonest perk).
- Sea guardians are marked; check each grade has enough of them.

Where this comes from

- Data file: MONSTERS_P (regenerated by tools/guardian_rework.js, table version 20). Engine: GUARDIAN_MELEE_BASE, GUARDIAN_BODY_CAP_PCT, PC_HIT_CAP_FRAC, SEA_GUARDIAN_NAMES, personal-combat/*.
- Rulebook: How strong a hero does a lair need; Every guardian has a weakness; Guardian perks by grade. Rulings R-011, R-072, R-077, R-079, R-080.

How a guardian fights

Rule	What it is
Blow	Base by grade (Weak 1–3, Moderate 2–5, Powerful 3–7, Legendary 4–9) + 1 per level of its Melee. A special does that blow × its weight.
Specials	One action a round like a hero. A special fires at its cast chance (50–95%); on a failure it attacks instead. Its school decides which wards and weaknesses apply.
Perks	One per step of grade (Weak 1, Moderate 2, Powerful 3, Legendary 4), each valued by its grade. Many are school wards (−20/30/40/50% off that school's cast chance). Never warded against the school it is weak to.
Weakness	Fixed per kind of creature: a school (cast at 95%, damage and effects doubled), Archery (double arrow damage), a race or a creed (double damage from everything). Learned by Hunting Rumours or by using it once; then marked for every creature of that kind.
Hit cap	No single hit takes more than half a fighter's max HP (R-080); every Legendary guardian also carries a 20% cap of its own (some declare a tighter one).
Half rule	No landed attack is reduced below half of its unreduced damage by any stack of wards.
Range	A fast guardian advances two steps a round, a slow one one; a guardian with a bow never backs out of melee to shoot.
Druid	From Druid 3 a natural beast's or vermin's blows land at half force against the hero.

Gaps, questions and things to check

These are observations from reading the data files, the engine and the rulebook together. None of them is a ruling. Each is a question for Toby or a place where two sources disagree.

#	Observation
1	The "gold field" (minG–maxG) on each guardian is what world generation writes as the lair's first treasure, but the hoard is then set from the grade's gold band (5–8 / 12–18 / 20–30 / 40–60). The per-guardian figures look like a legacy field; confirm which is live.
2	Only ten Legendary guardians exist for the 22 Legendary lairs in every world, so each appears about twice; the sea has its own fixed set. Check the sea's share at each grade (table above).
3	Illusory is weak-to for giants and warded by several others; Psychic is the dragons' weakness. Count wards against weaknesses per school in the table above and see whether any school is a poor lair-fighting choice overall.
4	HP bands (R-072) are confirmed but no test holds them. The guardian table is regenerated by a tool; any hand edit is lost on the next regeneration.
5	Specials fire at 50–95%; a Weak guardian with a 90% special (Dire Rat) and a Legendary one at 83% differ little in reliability. The grade shows in the weight and blow, not the chance.
6	The Hunting Rumours odds come from fighting the lair in the background; the "that hero wins" column on the Lairs sheet is the benchmark the rulebook quotes. Any rebalancing should rerun the benchmark harness.
